

“We made it first,
We change it first”

Where is your Samurai Spirit?

We have worked hard to reform our government through the famous and successful Meiji Restoration. With our tremendous effort, Japan has achieved political, social, and economic changes.

B.U.T

Meiji government has become a coward while going through these amendments. The government refused to invade Korea. Somehow, our government is avoiding to encounter with other nations. Our government is cringing in front of other nations in response to globalization.

In Japan's heart lies a samurai's spirit. We can never let our proud nation to be a donkey. We must act now. We made our Meiji restoration first, we change it first.
